

Jhon Alex Padrigano, RMT

PROFILE

A public health advocate motivated toward proactive intervention and prevention of infectious disease. Experience in specimen collection, laboratory analysis, evaluation, disease investigation, plan development, and community outreach.

CERTIFICATIONS

- Best in Average Handling Time (AHT), December 2022
- Registered Medical Technologist, 2022
- Philippine Association of Medical Technologist INC (PAMET), 2022
- SYSMEX XN-550 and SYSMEX CellaVision DC-1 Training, November 2021
- Animal Handling and Seminar and Workshop, October 2017

CONTACTS

Phone number: 09219857204
E-mail: jvpadrigano@gmail.com

WORK EXPERIENCE

Prior Authorization Specialist (June 2022 - January 2023)

- Review medical documentation to determine the medical necessity of a proposed treatment or procedure.
- Communicating with healthcare providers to gather missing information or clarify details of a request.
- Make decision about whether to grant or deny authorization based on established criteria.

On Call Medical Laboratory Technician

- Operating and maintaining laboratory equipment and instruments
- Analyzing body fluids and tissues to determine normal or abnormal results
- Interpreting test results and communicating findings to physician and other healthcare professionals.

Fraud Analyst (May 2021 - September 2021)

- Detecting and investigating suspicious activity through data analysis and research.
- Develop and implement strategies to detect and prevent fraud
- Collaborating with cross-functional teams, including risk management and compliance, to enhance the overall fraud prevention program

EDUCATION

Our Lady of Fatima University

- Bachelor of Medical Laboratory Science

Internship

- Fatima University Medical Center

RESEARCH

- Molecular detection of bla-KPC and Antibiotic Susceptibility of profile of Klebsiella pneumoniae clinical isolates